"Rekindling Chinese Sentiments" Event (Part 3) -Appreciation of Chinese Folk Art: Sichuan Opera Face-Changing

Activity Objectives

- Through watching performances, we come to know that face-changing is a traditional folk art and intangible cultural heritage in our country.
- Appreciating the different expressions on the masks, we understand that colors and expressions in face-changing represent various emotions and psychological states.
- By creating masks, we can enhance young children's sensitivity to colors.
- Through firsthand experience of face-changing techniques, we can foster young children's interest and curiosity in Chinese traditional art.

Activity Overview

"Face-changing" is a special skill in Chinese Sichuan Opera, where performers can rapidly switch between various masks in a short amount of time, seamlessly transitioning between expressions like joy, anger, sorrow, happiness, surprise, and sadness without changing the scene, creating a truly magical effect. Our school sincerely invites a master of Sichuan Opera face-changing to collaborate and share performances with the entire school community. Through live demonstrations, students will be invited to participate, allowing them to experience the joy of Sichuan Opera face-changing firsthand.
